

Acts of Old West Revived At Thirteenth Round-Up

THE FLAPPER

VETERANS FROM WALLA WALLA HOSPITAL HONORED AT SHOW TODAY; WILD STEERS AND BURROS AMUSE THE CROWD

ROUND-UP PARK—The magician's wand has been waved again and by that the Old West has been revived, and in the sawdust-covered arena of the park the clock is turned back while buckaroos on bucking broncos, riders in natty attire on running horses and cowgirls in colorful costumes perform to entertain the first day's crowd at the 13th annual Pendleton Round-Up.

The crowd is a 1922 crowd. It is good natured, keyed up to a tension in anticipation of witnessing the best show of the many good ones that Pendleton has staged. Down in the arena, the men and women hark back to other days. Prominent among those who are to direct the show are Henry W. Collins, president of the Round-Up association, and S. R. Thompson, livestock director. The judges are E. P. Marshall and Bert Whitman, Pendleton, and Henry L. Corbett of Portland. Other directors are busy, too, some of them on the field, some of them working just as hard behind the scenes to insure events being on time for the crowd's entertainment.

Crowd Arrives Early.

The day is right for an opening day. The slight haze of Indian Summer is in the air to soften the beams of a September sun that beats down on the field. The temperature is about right for the 1922 folks who sit and watch and just warm enough for the actors who are a part of the old West.

The crowd started to assemble early, and by 1:30 o'clock when the show began a representative first day attendance was seated on grandstand and bleachers eager to watch buckaroos and cowgirls and Indians in their various stunts.

The track has been well worked and promises to be fast for the various races that will be run before the afternoon's program is ended.

Honor Veterans.

The first fireworks of the afternoon was the way the veterans from the government hospital at Walla Walla were received. While the Athena band played "Over There" the crowds stood as the veterans marched into the sections of the grandstand on the east side which had been reserved for them.

Mayor G. L. Baker of Portland was then introduced and through the magnifying glass he delivered a brief address setting forth the purposes of the 1922 Exposition Special's visit to Pendleton and other points in the state. He set forth the plea that is being made by Portland for the rest of the state to co-operate with the Rose City in adopting a constitutional amendment which will make it possible for Portland to tax itself $2,000,000 to finance the fair.

(Continued on Page 3)

THE WEATHER

Reported by Major Lee Moorhouse weather observer.

Maximum 73.
Minimum 41.
Barometer 29.92.

TODAY'S FORECAST

Tonight and Friday fair.

TODAY'S WHEAT PRICES
Open High Low Close
Sept. 1.04 1.07 1.05 1.06
Nov. 1.06 1.07 1.05 1.06
May 1.06 1.07 1.05 1.06

STOPS 89 PER CENT NORMAL.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(U. P.)—The nation's railroad show forces are now approximately eighty percent normal, the association of railway executives announced today.

Warrant Issued for Alleged Profiteering

The first warrant for alleged profiteering in prices charged for room rents was issued this afternoon in city court. No prosecution was made, but it is expected that this case and one or other will be prosecuted tomorrow, according to Mayor G. A. Harman.

Information of Round-Up and Happy Canyon

Round-Up Friday and Saturday. Show starts at 1:30 sharp. Ticket sales both grandstand and bleachers at Alta street street booth beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning. Show opens at park at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Round-Up headquarters are in the Judd building above Hartman Abstract Co., corner of Main and Court streets. Telephone 257. Accommodation headquarters, East Oregonian building on Main street. Telephone 1124 and 1125.

Happy Canyon the "Little Brother of the Big Round-Up," is held at night. Shows tonight, Friday and Saturday. Show starts at 7:30 sharp. Doors open at 7 o'clock.

Commercial association information booth at corner Court and Main streets. Ask Folson, he knows.

Don't forget to visit the Northwest train and Hay Show. It's the greatest show of its kind west of Chicago.

All visitors to Pendleton during the Round-Up are urged to follow the trail of the Green Cards in buying their meals, their beds and in getting shoe shines.

A town of Pendleton's also has a job on its hands to take care of the huge crowds that are here during the three days, but this association and the business people are anxious that everyone get nothing except fair treatment.

Prices for double beds have been established at $2.50 the night and beds at one dollar. Green cards have been posted bearing this information.

Prices for shoe shines are 15 cents.

Prices for meals will be 25 percent above the prices normally charged. Restaurant men have agreed to this schedule.

Don't pay more than these prices. If anyone asks more, refuse to pay it and call the Commercial association No. 114, and make your complaint.

Follow the big green cards.

PENDLETON COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION

Round-Up Friday and Saturday. Show starts at 1:30 sharp. Ticket sales both grandstand and bleachers at Alta street street booth beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning. Show opens at park at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Round-Up headquarters are in the Judd building above Hartman Abstract Co., corner of Main and Court streets. Telephone 257. Accommodation headquarters, East Oregonian building on Main street. Telephone 1124 and 1125.

Happy Canyon the "Little Brother of the Big Round-Up," is held at night. Shows tonight, Friday and Saturday. Show starts at 7:30 sharp. Doors open at 7 o'clock.

Commercial association information booth at corner Court and Main streets. Ask Folson, he knows.

Don't forget to visit the Northwest train and Hay Show. It's the greatest show of its kind west of Chicago.

All visitors to Pendleton during the Round-Up are urged to follow the trail of the Green Cards in buying their meals, their beds and in getting shoe shines.

A town of Pendleton's also has a job on its hands to take care of the huge crowds that are here during the three days, but this association and the business people are anxious that everyone get nothing except fair treatment.

Prices for double beds have been established at $2.50 the night and beds at one dollar. Green cards have been posted bearing this information.

Prices for shoe shines are 15 cents.

Prices for meals will be 25 percent above the prices normally charged. Restaurant men have agreed to this schedule.

Don't pay more than these prices. If anyone asks more, refuse to pay it and call the Commercial association No. 114, and make your complaint.

Follow the big green cards.

PENDLETON COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION

Round-Up Friday and Saturday. Show starts at 1:30 sharp. Ticket sales both grandstand and bleachers at Alta street street booth beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning. Show opens at park at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Round-Up headquarters are in the Judd building above Hartman Abstract Co., corner of Main and Court streets. Telephone 257. Accommodation headquarters, East Oregonian building on Main street. Telephone 1124 and 1125.

Happy Canyon the "Little Brother of the Big Round-Up," is held at night. Shows tonight, Friday and Saturday. Show starts at 7:30 sharp. Doors open at 7 o'clock.

Commercial association information booth at corner Court and Main streets. Ask Folson, he knows.

Don't forget to visit the Northwest train and Hay Show. It's the greatest show of its kind west of Chicago.

All visitors to Pendleton during the Round-Up are urged to follow the trail of the Green Cards in buying their meals, their beds and in getting shoe shines.

A town of Pendleton's also has a job on its hands to take care of the huge crowds that are here during the three days, but this association and the business people are anxious that everyone get nothing except fair treatment.

Prices for double beds have been established at $2.50 the night and beds at one dollar. Green cards have been posted bearing this information.

Prices for shoe shines are 15 cents.

Prices for meals will be 25 percent above the prices normally charged. Restaurant men have agreed to this schedule.

Don't pay more than these prices. If anyone asks more, refuse to pay it and call the Commercial association No. 114, and make your complaint.

Follow the big green cards.

PENDLETON COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION

Summary of Events

Roy Quick won first place in the cowboy's pony race with Red Sublette, second.

Follow the big green cards.

PENDLETON COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION

DOMESTIC TROUBLE WAS NOT CAUSE OF SUICIDE

Mrs. Elsie Hobbach, widow of Ernest Hobbach who committed suicide yesterday afternoon, denies emphatically a story in a morning paper today that marital trouble was the cause of her husband's act.

"Mr. Hobbach and I have never had domestic trouble," she said. "I attribute the cause for his act to poor health and financial trouble."

Mr. Hobbach, who was 49 years of age, shot himself through the mouth, the tragedy occurring in the basement of the French Restaurant, of which he was one of the owners. A few minutes before killing himself, he had talked with his wife, who was at the cash register. He then walked to the safe, took the revolver, went to the basement and shot himself.

Besides his widow he is survived by a sister, Miss Louise Hobbach, and three brothers, Otto, Henry and Jerome. He came to Pendleton 16 years ago and had been married for 10 years.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but services will probably be held on Saturday.

Mrs. Elsie Hobbach, widow of Ernest Hobbach who committed suicide yesterday afternoon, denies emphatically a story in a morning paper today that marital trouble was the cause of her husband's act.

"Mr. Hobbach and I have never had domestic trouble," she said. "I attribute the cause for his act to poor health and financial trouble."

Mr. Hobbach, who was 49 years of age, shot himself through the mouth, the tragedy occurring in the basement of the French Restaurant, of which he was one of the owners. A few minutes before killing himself, he had talked with his wife, who was at the cash register. He then walked to the safe, took the revolver, went to the basement and shot himself.

Besides his widow he is survived by a sister, Miss Louise Hobbach, and three brothers, Otto, Henry and Jerome. He came to Pendleton 16 years ago and had been married for 10 years.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but services will probably be held on Saturday.

Mrs. Elsie Hobbach, widow of Ernest Hobbach who committed suicide yesterday afternoon, denies emphatically a story in a morning paper today that marital trouble was the cause of her husband's act.

"Mr. Hobbach and I have never had domestic trouble," she said. "I attribute the cause for his act to poor health and financial trouble."

Mr. Hobbach, who was 49 years of age, shot himself through the mouth, the tragedy occurring in the basement of the French Restaurant, of which he was one of the owners. A few minutes before killing himself, he had talked with his wife, who was at the cash register. He then walked to the safe, took the revolver, went to the basement and shot himself.

Besides his widow he is survived by a sister, Miss Louise Hobbach, and three brothers, Otto, Henry and Jerome. He came to Pendleton 16 years ago and had been married for 10 years.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but services will probably be held on Saturday.

Mrs. Elsie Hobbach, widow of Ernest Hobbach who committed suicide yesterday afternoon, denies emphatically a story in a morning paper today that marital trouble was the cause of her husband's act.

"Mr. Hobbach and I have never had domestic trouble," she said. "I attribute the cause for his act to poor health and financial trouble."

Mr. Hobbach, who was 49 years of age, shot himself through the mouth, the tragedy occurring in the basement of the French Restaurant, of which he was one of the owners. A few minutes before killing himself, he had talked with his wife, who was at the cash register. He then walked to the safe, took the revolver, went to the basement and shot himself.

Besides his widow he is survived by a sister, Miss Louise Hobbach, and three brothers, Otto, Henry and Jerome. He came to Pendleton 16 years ago and had been married for 10 years.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but services will probably be held on Saturday.

Mrs. Elsie Hobbach, widow of Ernest Hobbach who committed suicide yesterday afternoon, denies emphatically a story in a morning paper today that marital trouble was the cause of her husband's act.

"Mr. Hobbach and I have never had domestic trouble," she said. "I attribute the cause for his act to poor health and financial trouble."

Mr. Hobbach, who was 49 years of age, shot himself through the mouth, the tragedy occurring in the basement of the French Restaurant, of which he was one of the owners. A few minutes before killing himself, he had talked with his wife, who was at the cash register. He then walked to the safe, took the revolver, went to the basement and shot himself.

Besides his widow he is survived by a sister, Miss Louise Hobbach, and three brothers, Otto, Henry and Jerome. He came to Pendleton 16 years ago and had been married for 10 years.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but services will probably be held on Saturday.

Mrs. Elsie Hobbach, widow of Ernest Hobbach who committed suicide yesterday afternoon, denies emphatically a story in a morning paper today that marital trouble was the cause of her husband's act.

"Mr. Hobbach and I have never had domestic trouble," she said. "I attribute the cause for his act to poor health and financial trouble."

Mr. Hobbach, who was 49 years of age, shot himself through the mouth, the tragedy occurring in the basement of the French Restaurant, of which he was one of the owners. A few minutes before killing himself, he had talked with his wife, who was at the cash register. He then walked to the safe, took the revolver, went to the basement and shot himself.

Besides his widow he is survived by a sister, Miss Louise Hobbach, and three brothers, Otto, Henry and Jerome. He came to Pendleton 16 years ago and had been married for 10 years.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but services will probably be held on Saturday.

Mrs. Elsie Hobbach, widow of Ernest Hobbach who committed suicide yesterday afternoon, denies emphatically a story in a morning paper today that marital trouble was the cause of her husband's act.

"Mr. Hobbach and I have never had domestic trouble," she said. "I attribute the cause for his act to poor health and financial trouble."

Mr. Hobbach, who was 49 years of age, shot himself through the mouth, the tragedy occurring in the basement of the French Restaurant, of which he was one of the owners. A few minutes before killing himself, he had talked with his wife, who was at the cash register. He then walked to the safe, took the revolver, went to the basement and shot himself.

Besides his widow he is survived by a sister, Miss Louise Hobbach, and three brothers, Otto, Henry and Jerome. He came to Pendleton 16 years ago and had been married for 10 years.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but services will probably be held on Saturday.

Mrs. Elsie Hobbach, widow of Ernest Hobbach who committed suicide yesterday afternoon, denies emphatically a story in a morning paper today that marital trouble was the cause of her husband's act.

"Mr. Hobbach and I have never had domestic trouble," she said. "I attribute the cause for his act to poor health and financial trouble."

Mr. Hobbach, who was 49 years of age, shot himself through the mouth, the tragedy occurring in the basement of the French Restaurant, of which he was one of the owners. A few minutes before killing himself, he had talked with his wife, who was at the cash register. He then walked to the safe, took the revolver, went to the basement and shot himself.

Besides his widow he is survived by a sister, Miss Louise Hobbach, and three brothers, Otto, Henry and Jerome. He came to Pendleton 16 years ago and had been married for 10 years.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but services will probably be held on Saturday.

Mrs. Elsie Hobbach, widow of Ernest Hobbach who committed suicide yesterday afternoon, denies emphatically a story in a morning paper today that marital trouble was the cause of her husband's act.

"Mr. Hobbach and I have never had domestic trouble," she said. "I attribute the cause for his act to poor health and financial trouble."

Mr. Hobbach, who was 49 years of age, shot himself through the mouth, the tragedy occurring in the basement of the French Restaurant, of which he was one of the owners. A few minutes before killing himself, he had talked with his wife, who was at the cash register. He then walked to the safe, took the revolver, went to the basement and shot himself.

Besides his widow he is survived by a sister, Miss Louise Hobbach, and three brothers, Otto, Henry and Jerome. He came to Pendleton 16 years ago and had been married for 10 years.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but services will probably be held on Saturday.

BRITISH DIGGING IN ALONG LINE IN NEAR EAST

Kemal Hitting at Narrow Straits as Only Place to Enter European Territory.

TURKS WILL DECLARE WAR AGAINST BRITISH

War Will Come Unless Turks Are Allowed to Hold Thrace Pending Allied Conference.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 21.—(U. P.)—Great Britain must accede to Kemal's demand that pending the allied and Turkish Near East conference, Thrace be turned over to the Turks, or war with Britain alone facing the Turk impends was the general belief today as Lord Curzon conferred with Lloyd George at London regarding Kemal's reply to the allied peace proposal sponsored by France, Menzies, while Britain is concentrating troops along the Bosphorus and Dardanelles, with the center at Smyrna, under General Harrington. The Turks are bringing up more cavalry and artillery. Kemal announced his determination of going through the allied zone. Harrington will consider such an invasion an act of war and the fight will begin, he told Kemal.

The British are digging in all along the line. Railway stations here are crowded with the wives of British officers and members of other persons are leaving the war zone. The Turks are believed aiming at the Dardanelles and Bosphorus, the narrow straits offering the only place to cross into Europe without transports and guarding gunboats. They can cross on bridges. British lines run thirty miles through Smyrna, opposite Constantinople, the right wing on the Black sea, and the left on the sea of Marmara. Kemal headquarters are at Ismit.

TURKS MAY DECLARE WAR.

PERLIN, Sept. 21.—(U. P.)—"If Britain is unwilling to withdraw from Constantinople we will be forced to declare war," Muri Bey, Turkish nationalist representative here announced.

(Continued on page 3)

PROMINENT IN THE ROUND-UP.

Henry W. Collins, president of the Pendleton Round-Up, has for years been identified with the big show and before his appointment to succeed the late Sheriff J. H. Taylor, he served as arena director and still holds that position in addition to his other duties. He is a prominent business man and one of the best known grain men in the Northwest.

SUBSTITUTE MEN WITH VISION FOR THE MONKEY WRENCH HURLERS--PLEA

The motto "All for Oregon all the time" was stressed this morning both by music and the spoken word when boosters for the Portland 1925 Exposition, who compose the special train which is touring the eastern part of the state, held a meeting on the corner of Alta and Cottonwood streets.

Mayor George L. Baker of Portland, Tom Luke, chairman of the day, Walter Jenkins, song leader, George L. Ranch, president of the Portland Ad Club, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company quartette, the Rev. Charles McCauley, and Mayor G. A. Harman of Pendleton were the leaders in the meeting which was held before several hundred enthusiastic boosters.

"We have too many monkey wrench throwers in the state of Oregon, and what we need to do above all other things is to replace them with boosters who have a vision of the needs of the state as a whole," was a statement of Mayor Baker.

Comments Bitter

"I have nothing but commendation for your Senator Ritter and your representatives in the state legislature for their action in preventing the voting of the tax on the state as a whole for funding the fair," Mayor Baker declared. "Portland does not want any feeling against her to exist in the state. As mayor of Portland I have refused all the time any attempt on the part of anyone to bring any show that is similar to your Round-Up into Portland. Portland's attitude is that the unique attractions of each community be boosted and the rest of the state keep hands off."

George L. Ranch made a plea for cooperation in putting over the exposition and declared that the show is going to be held. "There are enough energetic, progressive young men from every walk of life in this state who are interested in it for the show to fail. We're going to have our show."

Portland To Pay

"I want you people to understand that Portland is to pay for this fair. All the money that will be needed by taxation to start the show will be raised by Portland."

"What we do want is the co-operation of the rest of the state to permit us to raise this money, to pay the taxes out of our own pockets in the city of Portland. The city's taxes are as high now as they can be under the constitutional limitation. To raise any more money by taxation we must have an amendment to the state constitution. We can't amend the constitution. The whole state must do that. What we want is for the people of the state to help us to get the constitutional amendment so that the city of Portland can legally vote to raise the taxes itself."

The speakers stood on the big State fire engine to make their addresses. Mayor Harman introduced Chairman Luke.

Hon. Geo. L. Baker and wife, Mayor of Portland; Hon. John Mann and wife, City Commissioner; William F. Merry, director of special train, Portland Ad Club; Otto Hartwig, President Oregon State Federation of Labor; Alfred Aya, vice president and general sales manager Columbia Tire Co.; Ferris Abbott, Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co.; George S. Allen, general manager Bridge of the Gods Co.; Carl Bruntz, Schmidt Lithograph Co.; Harry G. Beckwith, president Portland Realty Board; Walter H. Brown, assistant cashier Northwestern National Bank; Dr. C. S. Black; Miss Opal E. Brown, assistant secretary Union Savings & Loan Association; George A. Bailey, president Bailey, Graham & Childs; Kenneth Brown, official representative Sellwood Board of Trade; Fred H. Rimmer, Kiwanis Club; Phillip Buche, Rotary Club; P. W. Beach, Publisher Pacific Hotel News; Albert Cleveland and wife, Portland Realty Board; Arthur H. Carlson, president Carlson Printing Co.; Merle G. Campbell, president Campbell, Smith & Cook; H. B. Campbell, Ryan Fruit Co.; A. W. Caithorn and wife, Oregon Journal; Linn Cornell, Alexander Hamilton Institute; Lee M. Clark, Multnomah Printing Co.; Allen T. Clarke; Joe Dunn, Hazelwood Ice Cream Co.; Mark Daniels, Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co.; J. O. Denman, Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co.; Jimmy Dunn, clothier; H. G. Davidson, Northwest Manager Warren Brothers Co.; Charles Eckelman; Ted Emerson, The Portland Telegram; William Ely, manager Hippodrome Theatre; Mrs. J. G. Frankel, Federation of Women's Clubs; George L. Greenfield and wife, president Greenfield Shoe Co.; Monroe Goldstein, advance representative, secretary Oregon State Elks' Assn.; H. L. Hudson, general manager Traffic Bureau, Port and Dock Commissions; Harry Hale and wife, Portland Ad Club; Dave Hogen and wife, president Builders Exchange; Henry R. Hayek, Hayek Printing Co.; W. E. Hansen, Coje Film Co.; Jack Henderson, Lions Club; J. A. Hubbell, Portland Realty Board; M. Huxford, Baker Truck Co.; E. J. Jaeger, Jaeger Brothers, jewelers; Walter Jenkins, Diamond Coal Co., song leader of train; Arthur Johnston, president Coffee Cup Co.; L. A. Jones, Portland Realty Board; Paul Kelly, News Editor The Oregonian, and wife; Miss Anne Kell, Portland Ad Club; W. J. Knapp, treasurer Bridge of the Gods Corporation; H. C. Leish, National Pro-

(Continued on Page 3)

Milling With the Round-Up Herd

Pendleton has had the pleasure of entertaining Capt. Charles E. Kuebler, commander of the 59th Infantry Regiment, before today, but this is the first time he has had an opportunity of seeing the Round-Up. He and Capt. Charles A. Robinson, both 58th Infantry officers are here in charge of the 59th Infantry Regimental Band. Capt. Kuebler was here during the summer in charge of making arrangements for the citizens' Pendleton candidates for the citizens' training school at Camp Lewis. He addressed high school students when he was here. "I'm glad to be back, and I'm anticipating a good time while we are in Pendleton," he said this morning.

Jack Pyne, a cigar salesman with headquarters at Portland, is here to mill with the herd and see the show.

To have a Round-Up necessitates plenty of good hands, and the need is being well filled this year. The 59th Infantry Regimental band, stationed at Vancouver Barracks arrived early this morning from McMinnville, Oregon, where it has been appearing. The band is in charge of Sgt. L. R. Tankersley and is composed of 42 pieces. The services of the organization are in keen demand all over the Northwest, and the members get many good trips. Military bands are always popular, and the 59th have made a hit from the time they started their first number.

Archibald Leonard is connected with the Portland police department. When the late Sheriff Till Taylor

OREGON HISTORY UNFOLDED UNDER SHADOW OF HOOD

Happy Canyon Pageant Featured Coming of the White Man and Days of Redmen.

SNAPPY QUADRILLE MADE ON HORSEBACK

Many New Features Presented at Show; Soloists Found Immediate Favor Last Night

The history of Oregon, from the days when its forests were virgin soil, to the days of the redmen and the coming of the white men, unfolded in pageantry last night at Happy Canyon.

Under the shadow of snowy Mount Hood and its glowing foothills, fading danced. They vanished at the coming of Indians in the gorgeous trappings of fur, beads and feathers. These first Americans pitched their teepees by the sparkling stream and enjoyed a life untrammelled by law or convention. Then came the first settlers, to new homes out of the wilderness. Through their efforts appears a mushroom-like frontier village, peopled by bearded pioneers, pretty cowgirls and straight-shooting cowboys.

These children of the saddle presented a snappy quadrille on horseback, weaving in and out in intricate changes. One of the girls, it was discovered, was none other than that sweet singer, Jane Burns Albert, whose lyric voice found immediate favor with Happy Canyon crowds. Tom Ordeman, who has sung before in Pendleton, also received much applause as did the quartet numbers.

There are many new features at this year's show and its variety was commented upon. The old Happy Canyon spirit remains and the crowd still joins in singing that old-fashioned "The Old Gray Mare," and still finds great enjoyment in the soda-drinking cinnamon bears.

LIVESTOCK STEADY.

PORTLAND, Sept. 21.—(A. P.)—Livestock steady, eggs, butter firm.

SETS FIRE PREVENTION DAY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—(U. P.)—President Harding in proclamation called upon the country to set Monday, October 9 as fire prevention day and take precautionary measures to avoid fires.

Fire Chief Tamblin of Aberdeen, Wash., is a Rotarian. To go a step further he is president of the Aberdeen Rotary club. He is here for the Rotary gathering. Incidentally, he has visited the local fire department and had a chat with Fire Chief W. E. Ringold. He plans to remain in Pendleton to see the Round-Up.

In 1919 W. E. Busby of Los Angeles saw the Round-Up. It appealed to him then just strongly enough that he planned his business to be here again. He will leave tonight after seeing the show one day.

Mr. and Mrs. William Graham and their two sons of Silverton, Ore., are here to see the Round-Up. This is their first visit to the show, but they are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Ferguson and expect to get enough thrills this year to make up for those they have lost by not being here before this.

Ukiah, the cowboy capital of southern Umatilla county, is strongly represented at the first day of the Round-Up. It is said that nearly 150 are here today and that the whole population will be on hand Saturday. Among the arrivals yesterday were Albert Peterson and Archie "Speed"

(Continued on page 3.)